Control4 and Denon Partner to Deliver Streamlined Smart Home Entertainment

Control4 to offer Denon A/V products to its U.S. dealer channel

SALT LAKE CITY--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Control4 Corporation (NASDAQ: CTRL), a leading global provider of smart home solutions, today announced the availability of dozens of the most popular Denon® A/V entertainment products to Control4 authorized dealers in the United States through the Control4 Online Store. This relationship allows Control4 Dealers the opportunity to order Denon products along with the many other Smart Home solutions offered by Control4, all at a single website. Denon products available through Control4 include: Denon HEOS®, their industry-leading multi-room music streaming system; A/V Receivers; Record Players and Blu-ray Players. These Denon products address a wide range of homeowner needs from easy-to-use family room entertainment, to whole-home wireless audio distribution, and high-end solutions for the ultimate audio and video experience.

Denon is one of the earliest adopters of Control4 Simple Device Discovery Protocol (SDDP) technology, and is an active participant in the Control4 Driver Certification program, which creates easily integrated solutions that deliver incredible entertainment experiences and helps solve challenging installation problems. With the addition of popular Denon products to the Control4 Online Store, all Control4 dealers in the U.S. can more easily benefit from Denon's dedication to the custom installation channel and elevated integration with the Control4 Smart Home platform.

"One of Control4's primary goals is to enable the success of our dealer network in as many ways possible," said Noel Gouff, Senior Director of Business Development, Control4. "Enriching our dealer channel through our relationship with the Denon brand of high-demand products, creates a one-stop shop for dealers to source the products they need to complete a project of any size."

Paul Belanger, Global Business Team Leader - Custom Integration, D&M commented: "Denon products are at the forefront of home entertainment and their seamless integration with the Control4 platform solidifies their place in the Smart Home for many years to come." Belanger added, "Control4's dedication to the CI channel is one of the many reasons why our relationship has naturally evolved into Denon products being offered directly to their dealer network with no extra steps along the way."
